Good Morning Janet,

I spoke with the actuaries and learned that the expected cost savings you cited below (I copied it directly below) is approximately what consumers can expect to see.

I've been told that the 6 percent decrease in individual market premiums due to the reinsurance program comes out to $25 on average savings per month, or $300 savings on average per year for those purchasing individual coverage.

Please feel free to reach out if you have additional questions.

Thank you,

Tashia Sizemore
